A Fourth Grade Halloween

Congratulations to the 4th Grade on a very spooky Halloween dance. This year marked the 36th anniversary of the Lower School Halloween Dance Performance, a much loved BFS tradition that is many weeks in the making in dance classes with Margaret Bary. This year's was extra special as the performance fell on the holiday itself, and for the first time it was live-streamed on the Internet. Read more and watch a recording of the performance HERE →

Día de Los Muertos at BFS

On Wednesday the 9th Grade learned about the Day of the Dead and participated in four workshops to create decorations for an Ofrenda (with help from students in other grades). By placing an item on the ofrenda (altar) that your passed loved one enjoyed, the soul of the deceased can come back to enjoy their worldly delights once again. In 3rd Grade Spanish class, students also learned about the holiday. Read more HERE

Falling for Later @ Lawrence

The World Series has come to a close, but the fall semester of Later @ Lawrence is in full swing! Our upper school afterschool academic program, also open to 7th and 8th graders, is back with three excellent course offerings. On Mondays, students are refining their techniques for rendering the (au naturel) human form in Figure Drawing with artistinstructor Rachel Cohen. Also on Mondays, students are practicing their fluency in the belle langue by discussing literature, film, history, pop culture and current events in French Conversation with Mahalia Gayle. On Tuesdays, Freaky Fermentation is the thing! In this

Later @ Lawrence course with Vanessa Ehler, students (in photo above) are learning to ferment by making sauerkraut, yogurt, kombucha and much more! All Later @ Lawrence classes run from 3:45 to 5:45, and are a great way for students and teachers to connect in order to keep the learning, and fun, going into the evening!

Mixing It Up in the Middle School

- This or that: ice cream or cake?
- If you could have any job in the world, what would it be and why?

The Middle School enjoyed "Mix It Up" lunches on Wednesday! Students were seated in groups at random and got to know new friends with fun questions like those above. Mix It Up lunches are a program of Teaching Tolerance, encouraging students to move out of their comfort zones and connect with someone new over a meal.

What Makes a Leader? What Are the Qualities of a Good Leader?

As leaders of the Middle School student body, the 8th grade class will be exploring these questions, and others, throughout the school year. Where better to look for examples of leadership than in our own community of colleagues? In this week's THE LIFE, see and hear four 8th graders interviewing Glen Pinder, Head of Middle School; Karen Edelman, Director of Advancement, Karine Blemur-Chapman, Director of All-School Enrollment, and Kenneth Alston, Assistant Director of Security. Some leadership pointers: leading by example, uniting and inspiring groups of people behind a mission, and thinking not just out of the box but beyond the box.

The Brooklyn Friends School coaches and families are proud of every one of our student-athletes for participating in interscholastic sports and for representing BFS so well in our independent school community. Our Athlete of the Month program takes BLUE PRIDE one step further by shining a light on players or teams that distinguish themselves in a special way on the court, the field, or the pitch. Athletes are nominated and chosen by their coaches. We are pleased to announce that October's Athletes of the Month are Lily Boyd, Nora Slovak and Nina Haskins. Read their coaches' citations HERE.

CORRECTION: Last week's E-News had the correct picture but the wrong name to congratulate the MS Girls Soccer Team on their undefeated season. Our apologies and a hearty congratulations once more on your amazing season.

Notes from the Health Office on Lice

A rising number of lice cases have been noted at BFS this school year. It is very important for all of us: families, colleagues, and students, to do our best to prevent the spread of lice. For example:

- Students should not have head-to-head contact.
- Students should not share combs, brushes, or any type of items that can be worn on the head.
- Students should keep hair in a ponytail during the school day.

Here is an audio clip about head lice and the most recent lice information from the American Academy of Pediatrics. Another resource is the article The Facts of Lice on the BFS website.

Guided by the Quaker belief that there is a Divine Light in everyone, Brooklyn Friends School cultivates an intellectually ambitious and diverse community that celebrates each individual's gifts. We challenge our students to value and embrace difference as they develop critical thinking skills and apply their knowledge and intelligence both in and out of the classroom. In this rich learning environment, we inspire all members of our community to voice their convictions, to discover and pursue their passions, and to seek truth. Our graduates are compassionate, curious, and confident global citizens who let their lives speak in the spirit of leadership and service.
