Dear Parents,

As things seem to be changing daily there is much that is uncertain and I wanted to share what I do know at this time.

This is certainly not the usual Spring Break. Since we closed the teachers and I have been meeting and planning by email and Zoom as needed. This is a new world for many of us despite all our computers, phones, Facebook etc. We are working on new "remote" ways to connect with you and the children in meaningful and age appropriate ways. I will be in touch with you next week when I have information about our plans and the timeline to share.

Sharing a few more resources with you that will be fun for both you and the children:

Daily lunch doodle time with Mo Willems

Eric Carle reads The Very Hungry Caterpillar

Sending wishes for all to be well.

In Friendship,
Sara
